Dear Friends:

As Governor of the State of Connecticut, I would like to thank you for your remarkable efforts and hard work as librarians at the Bethel Public Library.

It is my understanding that you are all extremely helpful, friendly and generous in spreading your knowledge and assistance to all patrons of the library, whether young or old, avid readers or not. The people of Connecticut, especially the citizens of Bethel, appreciate your generosity and benefit significantly from your knowledge and determination. Many lives are enriched by your kindness and efforts each and every day. A love of reading and books are important interests to possess, especially as a foundation for all other learning. Libraries are an essential component in fostering this love and making books available to all.

The State of Connecticut is enhanced by those, such as yourselves, who give their time and resources to help others. Your enthusiasm and competency are true testaments to your dedication, commitment and tireless efforts to raise the standards of excellence in the State of Connecticut. Thank you again for your hard work at the Bethel Public Library and helping library patrons experience the joys of reading. Please know that you have my best wishes for continued success in the future.

Sincerely,

M. Jodi Rell
